VanDyke SecureCRT v6.6.1 x86 Portable.rar Q: How do I remove a section of my code that doesn't work? There's a section of my code which I don't want to work, I've tried all the methods possible and nothing's worked. There are other similar questions but none are my specific situation. I'm creating a counter where the display is set to off unless a button is pressed, then it becomes on. I have it so when it's off the numbers below it (an array of numbers) are shown. When it's on the numbers aren't shown but the numbers are pushed into the array and they are shown. let counter = document.querySelector("#counter"); let lis = document.querySelectorAll(".number"); let btn = document.querySelector("#btn"); let fx = 0; let states = [0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9]; let number = document.querySelectorAll(".number"); let counterText = document.querySelector(".counter"); function counterStart() {
