“What you can do with Mix2Stix? You can store your favorite music with just a click of a button!” – from ***** Donate for this project at Support the developer on Technical Field The present disclosure relates to an electrical connector, and more particularly to a shielded electrical connector. 2. Description of Related Art An electrical connector includes an insulative housing, a plurality of terminals received in the insulative housing, and an outer metal shell enclosing the insulative housing and the terminals. However, as the use of computer technology is developed, especially for computer server, there are different kinds of applications of connectors, such as power connectors. During application, the connectors have to connect to a power cable with different kinds of ends, such as one-end power cable and two-end power cable. When a connector connected to a one-end power cable, the contact portion of the terminals may have a particular length. However, if a connector connected to a two-end power cable, the contact portions of the terminals may have different lengths. Therefore, a connector with better shielding ability is needed to overcome the above-mentioned shortcoming. Platelet glycoprotein IIb/IIIa-receptor antagonists in stroke. This review will focus on the use of the platelet glycoprotein IIb/IIIa-receptor antagonists in the treatment of acute ischemic stroke and the prevention of stroke recurrence. A search of MEDLINE and BIOSIS for all English-language clinical trials published between January 1, 1995 and December 31, 2000 was conducted for articles describing the safety and efficacy of platelet glycoprotein IIb/IIIa-receptor antagonists in the treatment of acute ischemic stroke. The trial identified was reviewed. In addition, previously published reviews on the role of aspirin in preventing ischemic stroke were reviewed. The only completed, prospective, randomized, placebo-controlled trials of platelet glycoprotein IIb/IIIa-receptor antagonists in stroke were from the International Stroke Trial II (IST-2). IST-2 demonstrated that, at 12 months, tirofiban (Integrilin) was associated with a lower rate of recurrence of stroke (21.7% vs. 33.3%,
